2	PLAINTIFF'S PROPOSED LANGUAGE:
3	CONTRACT DEFINED
4	A contract is a legally enforceable promise or set of promises. In order for a
5	promise or set of promises to be legally enforceable, there must be mutual assent and
6	consideration. ¹

2	PLAINTIFF'S PROPOSED LANGUAGE:
3	PROMISE DEFINED
4	A promise is an expression that justifies the person to whom it is made in
5	reasonably believing that a commitment has been made that something specific will happen or
6	not happen in the future. A promise may be expressed orally, in writing, or by conduct. ²

2	PLAINTIFF'S PROPOSED LANGUAGE:
3	CONSIDERATION
4	Consideration is any act or promise bargained for and given in exchange for the
5	promise of another. Propet asserts that it had an oral contract with Mr. Shugart for an
6	unrestricted license to use his Photographs. Mr. Shugart asserts that the license was limited by
7	the Film Delivery Memo. If you find that the money paid by Propet to Mr. Shugart was given in
8	exchange for either promise, then there was consideration for that promise. ⁴

2	PLAINTIFF'S PROPOSED LANGUAGE:
3	CONTRACT INTERPRETATION
4	A contract is to be interpreted to give effect to the intent of the parties at the time
5	they entered the contract.
6	You are to take into consideration all the language used in the contract, giving to
7	the words their ordinary meaning, unless the parties intended a different meaning.
8	You are to determine the intent of the contracting parties by viewing the contract
9	as a whole, considering the subject matter and apparent purpose of the contract, all the facts and
10	circumstances leading up to and surrounding the making of the contract, the subsequent acts and
11	conduct of the parties to the contract, and the reasonableness of the respective interpretations
12	offered by the parties. ⁵

2	PLAINTIFF'S PROPOSED LANGUAGE:
3	CONTRACT MODIFICATION
4	Once a contract has been entered into, mutual assent of the contracting parties is
5	essential for any modification of the contract.
6	To establish a modification, the party asserting the modification must show,
7	through the word or conduct of the parties, that there was an agreement of the parties on all
8	essential terms of the contract modification, and that the parties intended the new terms to alter
9	the contract. ⁶

3	NON EXCLUSIVE LICENSE
56789	If you find Mr. Shugart created a work at Propet's request and handed it over, intending that Propet copy and distribute it and there was no other contract governing the use of the photographs, you must conclude that Mr. Shugart impliedly granted nonexclusive license to Propet to use the photographs for Propet's intended purposes.
10	Comments:
11	See Effects Associates Inc. vs. Larry Cohen et al., 908 F. 2d 555, 558 (9th Cir. 1990):
1213	Effects created a work at defendant's request and handed it over, intending that defendant copy and distribute it. [footnote omitted] To held that Effects did not at the same time convey a license to use the
14 15	hold that Effects did not at the same time convey a license to use the footage in "The Stuff" would mean that plaintiff's contribution to the film was "of minimal value," a conclusion that can't be squared with the fact that Cohen paid Effects almost $56,000 for this footage.
16 17	Accordingly, we conclude that Effects impliedly granted nonexclusive licenses to Cohen and his production company to incorporate the special effects footage into "The Stuff" and to New World Entertainment to distribute the film.

20	playing jingle following termination of relationship between radio station and jingle writer); Jacob
